The EU's response to the COVID-19 pandemic and the position of the PES Group

European Parliament

Economic Affairs

On 8 June, members of the European Parliament Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs (ECON) had an exchange of views with Christine Lagarde, President of the European Central Bank, to discuss the latest monetary policy decisions of the ECB Governing Council. Christine Lagarde presented to MEPs the merits of the massive repurchase, through the Pandemic Emergency Purchase Programme (PEPP), of essentially public securities, as well as the recent extension of the scope and duration of this operation launched in mid-March in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Lagarde assured MEPs that the ECB stands ready to do more to fulfil its mandate, which is not only to ensure price stability but also to support the EU's economic policies.

→ “Lagarde warns of market turbulences if no quick adoption of recovery fund”, Euractiv, 8 June 2020.

Regional Development

On 8 June, members of the Regional Development Committee (REGI) held a debate in the presence of European Commissioner for Cohesion and Reforms Elisa Ferreira on the 2021-2027 Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF) and on the impact of NextGenerationEU on Structural and Investment Funds. While welcoming the measures presented by the Commission to revive the European economy after COVID-19, MEPs were concerned about the budget cuts foreseen in the next MFF.

Conference on the Future of Europe

On 8 June, members of the Committee on Constitutional Affairs (AFCO) held a debate on the Conference on the Future of Europe and the role of the European Parliament. The launch of the Conference, foreseen originally to kick start in May, is now probably postponed to September, but the European institutions need to finalise an agreement on its scope and structure.

The Council of the European Union

Agriculture

EU ministers responsible for agriculture, who held an exchange of views by videoconference on 8 June, expressed a number of concerns about the impact that the “Farm to Fork” and “Biodiversity 2030” strategies could have on the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP). Almost all the delegations were particularly concerned about the very ambitious targets for reducing pesticide use and risks (-50%), the use of fertilisers and antibiotics (-50%), and the area returned to nature (10%).

Moreover, EU ministers welcomed the European Commission’s recent proposal for the revised 2021-2027 MFF, which provides for an increase of €26.5 billion in current prices to the agricultural budget compared to the draft presented in 2018. However, the vast majority of the delegations also felt that this increase in the agricultural envelope is still insufficient in view of the additional efforts that will be required of farmers under the Green Deal.

Economy

On 9 June, economy and finance ministers had a first exchange of views on the EU Recovery Fund, ahead of the European Council on June 19. Ministers addressed the basic structure of the new EU recovery instrument, namely its overall size, the nature and allocation criteria of the funds and the governance framework.

<https://www.euractiv.com/section/economy-jobs/news/eu-finance-ministers-examine-recovery-plan-amid-deep-divisions/>

On the same day, the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) announced that Spain, France and Italy will be the countries hardest hit this year by the coronavirus. According to the OECD, the COVID-19 pandemic has triggered the most severe recession in nearly a century.

The Eurogroup

On 11 June, the finance ministers of the euro area held a video conference to discuss the needs for the recovery plan and the European Commission's proposal, on the table of next week's European Council. Ministers also discussed the implications for the Euro area and a possible Eurozone dimension for the recovery facility to protect the single currency. Another key issue of the meeting was the need to coordinate recovery plans at the national level. As Eurogroup Chair and Portuguese Minister Mario Centeno said: "Coordination is key to ensure that we avoid divergence and the build-up of our imbalances"

The next Eurogroup in July will be the last meeting chaired by Centeno, following his recent announcement to resign from the government by mid-July. His decision opens the race to the position of Eurogroup Chair, for which, according to the media, Nadia Calviño (PES), Spain's Deputy Prime Minister with a focus on economic affairs, and Pierre Gramegna (RENEW), Luxembourg's Finance Minister, have expressed an interest. In Portugal, Centeno will be replaced by State Secretary for Budget João Leão.

The European Committee of the Regions

On 8 June, members of the Commission for Environment (ENVE) of the European Committee of the Regions held a debate with Virginius Sinkevičius, European Commissioner for Environment, Oceans and Fisheries, on the reviewed 2020 Work Programme and on the Green Recovery Plan.

Opening the debate, the Chair of the ENVE Commission, PES Group member and Mayor of Seville, Juan Espadas, said: "The European Green Deal is our roadmap for the economic and social recovery, which has to be also a green recovery. The European Union institutions can count on regions and cities to play an active role, as we can suggest strategies to better support societies and those most affected. To leave this crisis behind, we need to focus our efforts on building the world of tomorrow together at all levels, and I thank in particular Commissioner Sinkevičius for his dialogue with us today and his openness to intensify our cooperation."

The meeting also included debates on five opinions, among which the one by PES Group member Birgit Honé, Minister for Federal and European Affairs and Regional Development (Lower Saxony, Germany) on clean hydrogen. Moreover, members appointed Enrico Rossi, PES Group Vice-President and President of the Tuscany Region, as rapporteur of an upcoming opinion on the “Renovation Wave”, the EU’s initiative to upgrade the energy performance of Europe’s building stock.

On 15 June, the “Green Deal Working Group” of the European Committee of the Regions will hold its first meeting in the presence of Aurore Lalucq (S&D, France), Chair of the European Parliament’s Intergroup on the Green New Deal, and Diederik Samson, Head of Cabinet to European Commission Executive Vice-President Frans Timmermans.
